

CONTENTS

Introduction	13
The Aim and Scope of the Book	15
The Subject of the Work and Limits of Time	15
Variants, Pasticcios, Hybrids and Transcriptions	18
Centers, Functions and Reception of Venetian Concerto	22
Actual State of Research	37
Editorial Note	48
Acknowledgements	49
Chapter I. THE QUESTION OF THE GENRE	51
1. The Definition and Typology of the Baroque Instrumental Concerto	51
2. The Criteria for Typology	66
3. The Tendency to Blending Styles and Genres	77
4. Conclusions	79
Chapter II. THE SCORING AND TEXTURE	82
1. The Types of Scoring, Nomenclature and Local Traditions	82
2. The Question of Several and Single Players to a Part	92
3. The Scoring and Textural Preferences	104
4. The Relationships Between Soloists and Tutti	114
5. The Concerto and the Question of Ensemble Sonata and Opera Sinfonia	135
6. The Concerto and Solo Sonatas, Cadenzas and Capriccios	156
7. Instrumental Idiom and Virtuosity	174
Chapter III. THE FORM	200
1. The Tradition of Corelli and Torelli, and the Agogic Plan and the Size of a Concerto	200
2. Three-Movement Forms	205
3. The Forms with Four and More Movements	210
4. The Ways of Developing of Fast Movements	217
The Forms of the First Movements	217
Various Design of the Finales	220
The Forms of the Inner Fast Movements	223
5. The Types of Developing of Slow Movements	224
The Middle Movements in FSF Plan	225
Slow Movements in Other Places of the Concerto	229

6. The Question of the “Concerto Allegro”	231
“Unconventional” Vivaldi	234
Exceptional Albinoni	248
Conservative Gentili	258
Giulio Taglietti’s Experiments	265
The Marcello Brothers	271
Smart Facco	275
Original Solutions of Veracini	285
Vivaldian Tessarini	288
Locatelli’s Venetian Episode	293
Pre-Classical Tartini	298
Chapter IV. THE STYLE	210
1. Application of Polyphony	310
2. The Influence of Cantata and Opera	338
3. Illustrative, Programmatic and Extra-Musical Elements and Inspirations	364
The Case of Vivaldi	365
The Case of Tartini	383
4. Dance Elements	389
5. Individual style	396
Giulio Taglietti (1660–ca 1724)	396
Luigi Taglietti (1668–ca 1744)	404
Giorgio Gentili Faion (1669–1737)	406
Alessandro Marcello Eterio Stinfalico (1669–1747)	419
Francisco José de Castro Accademico Formato (fl. 1695–1708)	423
Carlo Antonio Marino (1670–1735)	426
Tomaso Albinoni (1671–1751)	432
Giacomo Facco (1676–1753)	439
Antonio Vivaldi Il Prete Rosso (1678–1741)	446
Benedetto Marcello Driante Sacreo (1686–1739)	469
Pietro Gnocchi (1689–1775)	474
Carlo Tessarini (1690–1766)	476
Francesco Maria Veracini (1690–1768)	483
Giuseppe Tartini (1692–1770)	488
Pietro Locatelli (1695–1764)	494
6. Borrowings and Similarities in Technique	499
7. The Question of the “Venetian School”	511
Ending	514
Bibliography	523
Music	523
Source Literature	548
Subject Literature	550
Selected Discography	560
APPENDIXES
Appendix 1. Composers, Places, Concertos and Their Functions	566
Appendix 2. Prints of Venetian Instrumental Concertos between 1697 and 1791	570
Appendix 3. Biograms of Concerto Composers in a Chronological Order	574
Appendix 4. Source Extracts	584
Appendix 5. Scoring Types and Their Treatment	599

Contents

Appendix 6. Relationships Between the Concerto Type and Its Scoring	604
Appendix 7. The Form of Venetian Concertos Exemplified by the Major Concerto Collections	605
Appendix 8. The Length of Venetian Concertos Exemplified by the Major Concerto Collections	615
Appendix 9. Formal Schemes	616
Appendix 10. Vivaldi's Illustrative and Programmatic Concertos	628
Appendix 11. Scenarios of Programmatic Concertos by Vivaldi	629
Appendix 12. Mottoes in Tartini's Concertos	631
Appendix 13. Variants of Concertos by Vivaldi, Albinoni, Tassarini and Tartini	633
Appendix 14. Concerto Hybrids and Pasticcios	634
Appendix 15. Arrangements of Venetian Concertos	635
Appendix 16. A List of Concordances between Two Catalogues of Tassarini's Concertos	636
Index of Names	637
Abstract	647